

Fun with Fossils

with Stephanie McDorman

Do your children love fossils? Are they always picking up rocks and asking what they are? Join Stephanie McDorman, Creation Museum registrar, for a fossil workshop as part of the Answers for Kids series. This workshop will focus on the importance of fossils and what they teach us when understood from a biblical viewpoint. Every child will have the opportunity to make his or her own shark's tooth necklace to take home as a reminder of what was learned.
